

Teach a Topic!

Teach someone about something you know

1

Find a student

Invite a friend or family member to take your lesson. Pick someone who is curious and loves to learn!

2

Teach 5 new things

Pick a topic you know lots about and are excited to share. Teach your student at least 5 different facts or ideas about your topic.

Here are some teaching tips:

- Plan your lesson ahead of time. Decide what you want to teach and in what order.
- Pick a place to be your classroom. Try to find somewhere with few distractions so your student can focus.
- Gather or create anything you'll need to help explain your topic. These could include worksheets, posters, pictures, or books.
- Set up your classroom with any tools you'll need. You might want paper, pencils, or a whiteboard and markers.
- End your class by quizzing your student about what they learned. Or ask them to write a story or draw a picture.

3

Report on the lesson

Record how it went on the activity sheet, or make an audio or video recording of the lesson to add to Storyboard. Or do both! Before you finish your report, add your thoughts about what you learned.

Teach a Topic!

Teach someone about something you know

Who is your student? _____

What topic are you teaching? _____

What 5 facts or ideas are you going to teach him/her, and how?

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

Teacher's Notes: How did it go?