Optional Activity - Self-confidence Boost

Getting rid of negative thoughts and thinking positively can go a long way in reducing stress. Before leaving class or signing off today post self-motivating statements with post-it notes or in a class forum. Take a minute to read others' and think about environments where you share the same self-confidence.

Balancing Act

Student Instructions

Your ability to balance your learning and other commitments is not easy. When you are able to self-manage your various responsibilities you're more likely to be mentally, physically, and emotionally prepared to learn. But don't worry, these self-management skills, like social, emotional, and resiliency can be developed to help you better manage stress and maintain a positive well-being. Start by identifying how you have managed stress in the past to help you recognise these strategies when work/life balance seems to sway one way.

- 1 In your Xello About Me profile, add 5-10 recent past and current experiences to your Experiences timeline. This could include:
 - Work related experiences like job shadowing or paid work
 - Volunteer experiences like being a peer tutor, helping out in the community, or active school council member
 - Formal Education experiences like working towards your A levels or taking extra courses.
 - Life experiences such as performing at a local event, participating at a robotics competition, succeeding on an outdoor educational trip, completing first aid training, receiving recognition for environmental leadership, passing a graded music exam, or earning a new belt in martial arts.
- 2 For each experience you add include a brief reflection about:
 - What you liked: this could include details about the people you worked with, the goals you reached, or the tasks you completed.
 - What you found challenging: consider times when it was difficult to balance this with other roles. What skills or strategies did you use to be successful? (eg. flexibility, organisation, staying focused, self-motivation, and working under pressure).
 - What you learned: capture the skills you practised and describe how these could be transferred to other experiences.
- 3 Optional: Did you identify any skills within these experiences that you have not yet added to your skills inventory on your Xello profile? If yes, add and rate them.

Strategies for Success

Student Instructions

Look at your current and upcoming commitments, including your learning workload. Do you have any big projects or exams that may require more time and focus? How do you plan to balance the increased workload with other commitments, while still making time for hobbies and activities you enjoy?

- 1 Select a particular time in the near future that you anticipate to be more challenging to balance. For each relevant commitment on your Experiences timeline add a self-management tip (under “What I found challenging”) for yourself. Hints:
 - How will you manage your stress? Will you schedule time to exercise or engage in a hobby you enjoy?
 - How will you stay motivated? What will help you stay focused?
 - How will you manage your time? Are some commitments more flexible than others? What should you prioritise?
 - How will you work under pressure? Will you breakdown overwhelming large projects into smaller achievable tasks?
