

Bringing education and the real world together

With Xello's Work-related Learning (WRL) module, students can deepen their career exploration by learning about local companies, and exploring opportunities to gain real-world experience through job shadows, work experience, internships, and more.

An all-in-one CEIAG & WRL solution

Implementing new software can be challenging. With WRL in Xello, you can reduce onboarding time and training costs with a solution your students and educators are already using to prepare for the future.

Get careers leaders & teachers involved

Connecting industry and education isn't a one-person job – it requires a combined effort. Invite educators to help coordinate student requests or expand their industry knowledge with teacher externships.

Increase student engagement

Meet your students where they are. Having WRL opportunities accessible in Xello means students can discover opportunities effortlessly as they explore their options, and can indicate interest in just one click.

Stay organised and save time

Maintain an organised database of industry contacts, opportunities, and student requests in Xello. Plus, switch over to an Educator view at any time to review student profiles, send messages, and assign work.
